

Updating Your Master Repository

Step 1: Go to your repository page in GitHub online and click compare.

Step 2: Click switching the base to see commits made to the upstream master (i.e. Cliff's Master Repository) by others.

Step 3: Create a new pull request. This pull request will allow you to pull in changes from the upstream master into the master branch of your own repository.

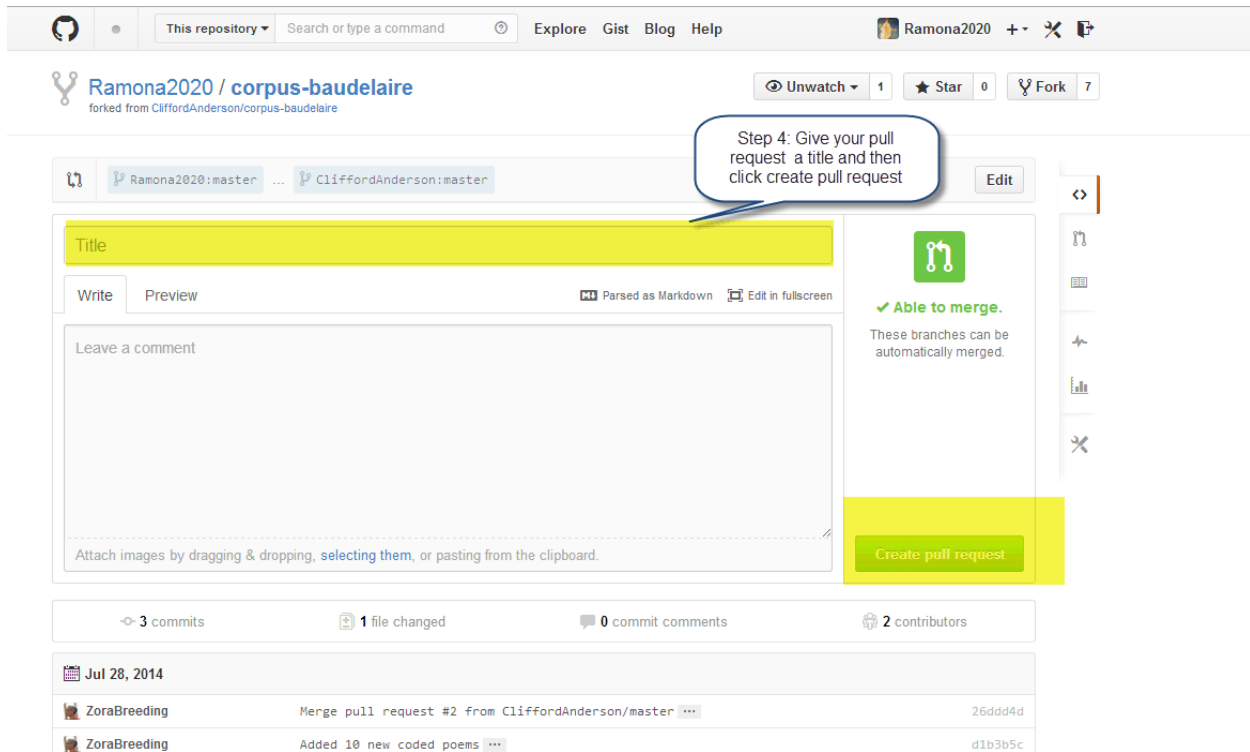

The screenshot shows the GitHub interface for the repository CliffordAnderson / corpus-baudelaire. At the top, there's a navigation bar with the repository name, a search bar, and links for Explore, Gist, Blog, and Help. Below this, the repository name is repeated, followed by buttons for Unwatch (4), Star (0), and Fork (7).

The main content area shows a comparison of the Ramona2020:master branch. A yellow box highlights the Create pull request button, and a blue callout bubble points to it with the text Step 3: Create a Pull Request. Below the button, there's a summary of the changes: 9 commits, 1 file changed, 0 commit comments, and 3 contributors.

The commit history is displayed in a table, grouped by date:
